KING GEORGE ON WITNESS TELLS WAY TO ERIN

13 Warships to Escort Royal Yacht from Holyhead to Belfast

By International News Service.
London, June 21.—King George and Queen Mary left late today for Belfast to attend the State opening of the Ulster Parliament tomorrow. The king's speech, which will deal with the government's Irish policy, has been completed.

A report was current in the House of Commons that the king's visit will be making an offer of peace direct to the monarch.

A special train of six coaches with the royal carriage in the center carries the king and queen and their attendants from London to Holyhead. There was a big crowd at the railway station and the monarch stood in the open doorway of the royal coach as the train departed. One man in the crowd shouted:

"A safe journey and a safe return. The king smiled an acknowledgment."

There was not a sign of a uniformed policeman nor any soldiers on board so far as could be seen from the station platform.

Twelve British warships will escort the royal yacht Albert and Victoria from Holyhead to Belfast.

Extraordinary precautions have been taken to prevent any kind of political demonstration during the royal procession at Belfast. No person except police will be allowed upon the roofs of buildings along the way, and all access to the city will be closed until 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

More than 6,000 picked soldiers will be stationed in the city and suburbs.

JOHNSON, AT SACCO TRIAL, SAW MISSING MAN ON NIGHT OF DEFENDANT'S ARREST

Johnston, at Sacco Trial, Saw Missing Man on Night of Defendant's Arrest

The first witness at the Sacco-Vanzetti trial today was Simon B. Johnston, of West Bridgewater, who testified that on the night the defendants were arrested their companion, "Buddy" Boda, came to his house and said he came for his automobile, which had been repaired by the witness.

"I said to Boda, 'You can't take your car, as you haven't any 1920 number plates,' and he replied, 'I'll take a chance.'"

"Then I said, 'All right, I'll go down the garage with you when you wish my car gets back.'"

"Boda then said, 'Never mind, it's too late now, I'll send for it tomorrow.' He did not send for it."

At the time of the conversation Johnston's wife was at her next door neighbor's, telephoning the police. Soon afterward the defendants were arrested on a trolley car at Brockton. Boda disappeared and his automobile still remains in Johnston's garage.

Captain William H. Proctor, of the state police, was the first of the gun experts called by the prosecution. He testified that he received four empty cartridges while from Superintendent Thomas H. Fraher of the state police, the day of the murders.

In qualifying as an expert he said he has testified during the past twenty years in more than 100 capital cases.

Captain Proctor said 16 of the 31 cartridges taken from the bodies of the defendants at the time of their arrest at Brockton police station following the arrest of "Buddy" Boda, make three "Remington," six "Winchester" and seven "United States." The 31 cartridges were admitted as exhibits.

According to previous witnesses nine of these cartridges were in a .38 Smith & Wesson revolver, the waist band of Sacco's trousers and his shirt and the others were found in his pockets.

The witness said the cartridges taken from the skeletonized bodies of the defendants were of 21 caliber.

He next testified regarding the bullets taken from the bodies of the slain men. Bullet No. 1, he said, was of Winchester make. In his opinion it was fired from a Savage automatic gun of 21 caliber.

He testified that the bullet taken from the body of Sacco was fired from a Winchester. In his opinion it was fired from a Savage automatic gun of 21 caliber.

Another day state policeman who had the duty of guarding the defendants at the time of their arrest, testified that the bullet taken from the body of Sacco was fired from a Winchester. In his opinion it was fired from a Savage automatic gun of 21 caliber.

GOPERS IN WHAT CAREER'S CRISIS

Lewis Men Say Leader of Miners would Not Have Entered Race Unless Sure of Victory

By International News Service.
Denver, Colo., June 21.—The convention of the American Federation of Labor has become a political contest. The 20th annual convention, which opened today in Denver, is being watched by the press and the public as a referendum on the leadership of the labor movement.

The announcement of Lewis' candidacy caused consternation in the Gompers camp. The fear now is of a stampede for the younger leader.

According to Lewis supporters, he would not have announced his candidacy had he not been assured of enough votes to win. They claim he has already secured the 25,000 votes of the convention. Gompers supporters make claim of more than 25,000 votes.

The talk now is of the coal miners, the railroad workers and the federation.

Such a coalition it is said would mean the inauguration of a sweeping program of industrialization. The program would be based on the principle of the "industrial union" which would control the steel industry, the coal mines and other basic industries as well as the railroads.

It was said to exist 17 years ago that Gompers feared the rise of Lewis and his "industrial union" was his opponent. The election may be held, therefore, according to the present outlook.

Air Tests Framing U. S. Naval Policy

By International News Service.
Off the Virginia Capes, June 21.—American naval policy will be in the making today as a great air armada swept out to sea from the Virginia Capes.

The first of a series of bombing tests to prove the value of aerial forces in naval warfare started today.

If the air forces demonstrate their ability to put out of commission the modern fighting ships, then the naval policy of the United States must undergo a change, and the great gray dreadnoughts must find the backbone while the nation develops air forces for protection on land and sea.

Williams' Honor to Judge Anderson Blows at Vice-President's Idea, Says Hapgood

By NORMAN HAPGOOD.
(Staff Correspondent of Boston American.)
Washington, June 21.—Williams College on Monday did something new to Vice-President Coolidge. It was listening to his words of spiritual persuasion, what possessed her sister college and a traditional rival to deal a blow to all be expected of the young ladies in their colleges.

Williams gave an honorary degree to Judge Anderson, the President of the American Federation of Labor, and a diploma to the young man. This proceeding will force the ever-worried Vice-President to write a series of articles on the masses of thought in men's colleges to everything that civilization has to offer. Mr. Coolidge is now running a series showing that the duties of the young ladies in their colleges is shaking the pillars of the nation.

Military Peace Disastrous to Laboring Men of World, British Leader Declares

By International News Service.
Brighton, Eng., June 21.—The reparations clause of the treaty of Versailles was branded as "disastrous to workers in every country in the world" by President Chamberlain of the Trades Union Congress in opening the British Labor Conference here today. President Chamberlain charged that "most unemployment was due to the condition of a 'military peace' and a conspiracy to wage war against the central powers."

"It is impossible to improve the nation without spreading the plague to every other nation," said President Chamberlain. "That is exactly what has happened. We are now faced with the most serious economic crisis in history."

"There must be public ownership of the means of production, the shipping and all factories and workshops. But such ownership can only be acquired when we have captured political ownership of the nation."

A June Day With the Sweet Girl Graduate and the Love-Lulled Bride

EAST AND WEST—Leading women of the Orient now touring U. S. under guidance of Mrs. W. A. Montgomery (wearing hat). Plan to raise $5,000,000 to found women's schools in Asia. Left to right, Dr. Henderson, India; Miss Canto, teacher, India; Mrs. Montgomery; Dr. Ma Sau Sa, teacher, China; Miss Man En Vong, teacher, China. (U. & U.)

ON WITH THE DANCE! Wealthy New York girls have started their society friends by daring exhibitions of classic dancing. Above, in graceful pose, the Misses Marion Dale, Josephine Weddell and Margaret Rainsford. Below, Miss Florence Coleman. Only the select witnessed the recent performance. (K. & H.)

MOVIES LURE PADEREWSKI—No, Cloris, the great Polish artist is not going to play the piano in a movie theatre. He is, however, intensely interested in their manufacture. Shows with Rupert Hughes (left) and a director. The pianist is reading a scenario. (Int.)

SAILING, SAILING! Countess Nita Bonda, wife of the Swedish military attaché at Capitol, who has sailed for her home. One of the most beautiful hostesses in Washington.

UNTIL THE LAST—A remarkable picture showing the main door of Mountjoy Prison, Dublin, just before the execution of a Sinn Féin. Scores of women were among the patriots who knelt and prayed for the victims of British rule. Observe the large crucifix and candles on the wall of the prison. These mourners prayed for hours. (W. W.)

A LITTLE FLY FELLER—This model of a real airplane is small, as the comparison with the little girl shows, but it can fly several hundred feet. It is equipped with 150 rubber-band power and has steering gear, gauges, levers, etc. Closed passenger compartment luxuriously upholstered. (K. H.)

PICKING UP MONEY—Miss Rhoe Boynton, University of California student, who served as "million boss" during the reception of addition to Carden's Clubhouse, Berkeley, Cal. (Key)

THERE ARE SMILES! Mrs. W. E. Carey, whose mouth is now a perfect cupid's bow as the result of an operation she had performed in Paris. Called the "swept smile." Likely to become Paris' idol.

ANIMALS FROLIC! Elephants get along splendidly together, as can be seen above. The larger chaps were the guests at the Elks' Club of Long Beach, Cal., and they took to the salt water like bricks of cream. J'ever see an elephant push over an elephant? Well, that elk on the right has just shoved the big fellow over. (U. & U.)

ORANGE BLOSSOMS. Mrs. John B. Bennett, one of Washington's belles, who is now on her honeymoon. Husband is army captain. She is daughter of Mrs. E. S. Bailey of St. Louis. (U. & U.)

BATTER UP! At last they have invented a machine that will put four into the heart of Babe Ruth. It is labeled the automatic twister and will pitch any kind of a ball desired by means of adjusting screws and levers. It "smokes" and "jokes" with equal facility. R. L. Blair, the inventor, is shown demonstrating the device. (Int.)

GUNNING IN ERNEST! This is not a sample of the work Uncle Sam's custom men perform. Seized guns on S. S. East Side at her Hoboken, N. J., pier. All valued at $130,000. Believe weapons were sent for Bela Fain. (Int.)

ROSTAND AGAIN? Earl Carroll and his wife, who sailed on the La Savoi to make arrangements for the production of Rostand's posthumous play in America. (U. & U.)

SOCIAL POINTER. Miss Laura Harlan, who controls the destinies of Mrs. Harding's social affairs. Officially she is known as a social secretary. Quiet, reserved and sensible. (W. W.)

SHOW PRETTY TOOFIES. Her teeth, however, haven't anything to do with this caption. It's her hat. Like it? Made of opal blue taffeta with an "off the face" roll brim that is extremely popular this season. Roll brims are the very latest things in head gear. (U. & U.)
